. . . On The Otherhand . . .

This 1957 team could be termed Clemson's "potential" squad. Of the 55 players listed on the first five teams, 33 have never seen varsity action. Thirteen of these are on the first three squads—the ones that will probably see the most action.

Although there are nine lettermen slated for first team duty the success of the Tigers will depend much on one of these untested, but potentially great, sophomores. Harvey White, a highly successful high school and freshman college player, has been assigned the task of taking over where Charlie Bussey left off.

Behind White are another sophomore, Johnnie Mac Goff, and returning letterman Bill Barbary, a senior. These are the three who will probably see the most duty, but "Red" Hope and "Snook" Dillon could fit into the picture.

Clemson has a lot to defend this season. The conference championship was captured in '56, as well as a trip to the Orange Bowl. That doesn't leave much room for improvement unless it is an undefeated season and a winning bowl team.

Looking at a paper lineup and seeing 21 lettermen on the squad, many observers might think Frank Howard will have an easy job moulding a team for his 18th season. But another glance shows that eight of the men who started the Orange Bowl game against Colorado will be alumni this year.

Replacements have to be found for Bussey, Joel Wells, Jim Coleman, Dalton Rivers, Willie Smith, Billy Hudson, Dick Marazza and Earl Greene.

To go with White, Goff and Barbary, Howard has some boys who have shown they can pick 'em up and put 'em down. But the experienced lads are few and far between.

Charlie Horne, twice sophomore of the week, and Rudy Hayes, the leading returning ground gainer, will probably be at the halfbacks. Hayes salvoed his yardage from fullback last season but now has gone back to his old high school post.

Fullback could change before the ink dries on this printing. Defensive ace Mike Dukes ended up as the starter after the spring game, but Bob Spooner is still around and a new face on the scene may throw this spot into a real tizzy. He is Doug Cline. That is one name the opponents will not be able to re-cline on. Coaches say he is really one of these "potential boys" who needs just a little experience.

Backing up Hayes will be spring practice sensation, George Usry, and "Rabbit" Chatlin, who can run just like his name implies. Horne has Sonny Quesenberry and Doug Daigneault pushing for honors.

The line looks pretty good, except at tackle and here again some sophomore might spring up and lessen the chance of too many "Black Saturdays".

Jim McCanless, the most seasoned tackle, suffered a neck injury last spring and his status is in doubt. Lettermen Jack Bush and Johnny Thomason and non-letterman Jim Padgett back McCanless as do sophs Harold Olson and Donnie Meador.

The veterans are at guard. Co-Captains John Grdijan and Leon Kaltenback will be tough to unseat but men like Dick DeSimone, H. B. Bruorton, Herman Baker and Jim Payne are capable of doing just that. The right guards of this group—Grdijan, DeSimone and Baker—also double as linebackers.

Lettermen Whitey Jordan and Ray Masneri could make White look great with some above the average pass catching, but the man with potential at end is Emil Zager, another sophomore. Senior Bill Few, junior Harry Hicks and soph Wyatt Cox are strong contenders. Hicks returns after two years in service.

The two centers who played 95 per cent of the games last season are scheduled back. Donnie Bunton and Bill Thomas both have proved capable pivot men as well as staunch roving line backers. Paul Snyder, the school's champion javelin thrower who bohunked last season, backs these two veterans.

A year ago the Clemson coaching staff felt that the Tigers could go somewhere if the sophomores came through and about a half dozen did spell the veterans during the 10-game grind. The accent on this assumption seems even more this year.

Eyebrow Raiser

Few teams in the nation can say they've been to five bowl games in the last 17 years, but that's the record Clemson has to show. But few people thought that 1956 would be one of those years for Clemson. However, despite a pretty rugged schedule the Tigers lost just one of 10 games, took the conference championship and won a trip to the Orange Bowl where a thriller was lost to Colorado, 27 to 21.

The Tigers started out with their 13th straight opening win over Presbyterian, 27-7. Florida came next and Clemson was at its best on offense the first quarter, but had to rally to gain a 20-20 tie. Another rally put upset-minded N. C. State away, 13-7, and Wake Forest saw the Tigers clicking on both offense and defense and fell, 17-0.

Probably the best defensive game of the year was played against South Carolina where the Tigers scored in the first quarter and made the 7-0 score stand up.

Taking the offense overall for 60 minutes, it was the best against Virginia Tech. Both the Tigers and Gobblers were rated nationally just prior to this tilt and Clemson came away with a 21-6 triumph. Maryland slowed the bowl express during a 6-6 tie and Miami almost shattered any hopes of another trip to Florida's gold coast with a thorough 21-0 win. But a 7-0 victory over Virginia gave Clemson the loop championship and the 28-7 score over Furman cinched th Orange Bowl bid.

Chief Whip Cracker

FRANK HOWARD

Frank Howard starts his 27th season on the Clemson campus this fall, and his 18th as head coach. The ninth season after he set foot on the rolling Carolina countryside, the Tigers went to the Cotton Bowl. That season (1939) was his last one as assistant coach.

Howard had come to Clemson in 1931 when Jess Neely was hired off the Alabama staff to fill a vacancy left by Josh Cody. Still wet behind the ears, Howard filled in as line coach.

"At least that was my title," the Bashful Baron of Barlow Bend says. "Actually I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players, and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts, and operated the canteen while the regular man went to lunch."

When Neely moved to Rice at the end of the 1939 season the Clemson Athletic Council met to name his successor. One member nominated Howard and Howard promptly seconded the motion. The motion carried.

Howard waited nine more seasons to have a bowl team of his own, but including the 1948 team, he has carried four squads to major bowls out of nine attempts. Clemson won the first three, dropped the next two.

The Alabama native has been through "fat" and "lean" years, but 10 of his seasons have seen the Tigers have a .500 or better mark.

Howard, who says he can get up a conversation a lot quicker with a 195-pound fullback than with a 170-pound guard, stuck to the single wing his first 22 seasons at Clemson, but in 1953 he switched to the "T". And in the last four years under the "new look" the Tigers have won 22, lost 15 and tied 3. During his 17 years as head man, Clemson has won 91, lost 62 and tied 10.

Howard not only takes full responsibility for the football team, but is also athletic director, handling all sports programs at Clemson. In his 27 seasons here, the department has always operated in the black.

The Tiger mentor carries a thick drawl with him and his after dinner speaking talents are in great demand and he is just about as well known for his witticisms as for his coaching ability.

Mrs. Howard is the former Anna Tribble of Anderson and she and the coach are the parents of two children, Alice, 21, and Jimmy, 15.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

(Sept. 21 at Clemson—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Frank Jones
Sports Publicist: Ben Hay Hammet
Nickname: Blue Hose
Team Colors: Garnet and Blue
Stadium Name: Bailey Memorial Stadium
Seating Capacity: 5,000
School Enrollment: 540
Captain of Team: (Not elected as yet)
Lettermen Returning: 19 Lettermen Lost: 8

There's an unprecedented football situation at Presbyterian, which had known only two head coaches in 40 years up to three seasons ago.

When the brand new head man assembled his PC team for pre-season practice Sept. 1, he started moulding a team with a group of players he had never seen scrimmage. High man on the totem pole of hurdles is Frank Jones, late of Decatur, Ga., where his high school teams have won championships six of the last eight years.

Because of the limited time available to him, Jones plans to make as little change as possible in the system of play used by the departed Bill Crutchfield. He plans to install some variations at the start and work in more and more as the season progresses.

The pre-season outlook for 1957 is for a team similar to the one which posted four victories against six defeats last year. It will be a heavy, rather slow outfit, featuring a strong running attack and stout defenses.

Presbyterian's first and second string lines will average 210 and the first two backfields about 184.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

(Sept. 28 at Chapel Hill, N. C.—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Jim Tatum
Sports Publicist: Jake Wade
Nickname: Tar Heels Stadium Name: Kenan
Team Colors: Blue and White Seating Capacity: 46,000
School Enrollment: 7,000
Captain of Team: Dave Reed, Buddy Payne (co-cpts.)
Lettermen Returning: 21 Lettermen Lost: 7

"Competition for positions is the big difference this year," Coach Jim Tatum said after watching his 1957 Tar Heels close out spring practice with the annual Blue-White intrasquad game.

"We have more men of better caliber trying for position and it makes all of them hustle," he added.

Carolina will be trying to come back from a 2-7-1 record of last season.

Twenty-one players who saw action last year return this time, plus several sophomores who are expected to play a lot of ball. Across the number one front line listed for the spring game, were six lettermen plus sophomore guard Don Stallings. One sophomore, full-back Cornell Johnson, was listed in the backfield but Johnson may be switched to halfback. The halfbacks for the spring game were Emil DeCantis and Don Droze, with Dave Reed, last year's number one quarterback, calling the signals.

The Tar Heels will stick with Tatum's Split-T. Speed is good, but many of the backs are small. The line is beefy in position and has speed.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE COLLEGE

(Oct. 5 at Clemson—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Earle Edwards

Sports Publicist: Bill Hensley

Nickname: Wolfpack

Stadium Name: Riddick

Team Colors: Red and White

Seating Capacity: 19,000

School Enrollment: 6,100

Captain of Team: Dick Hunter

Lettermen Returning: 19

Lettermen Lost: 13

"If I were a sportswriter," Earle Edwards said, "I would say that North Carolina State is going to be an improved football team in 1957. On paper, prospects for a good season are bright.

"However, the Wolfpack coach continued, "I'm a coach and naturally I avoid sounding too optimistic, knowing that a lot of things could happen between now and the end of the season.

"I will say this . . . I'll be greatly disappointed if we aren't better than we've been for the past several years."

And that, briefly, is a head coach's outlook on the '57 season.

Edwards, beginning his fourth year at State, has reasons for his modest optimism. Nineteen lettermen are on hand this year, including one at each position on the starting eleven. Only one starter—tackle John Szuchan—is missing from last year.

In addition, the squad has more depth than any State team in the past 10 years, more experience, more size in the line and a fast backfield.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

(Oct. 12 at Charlottesville, Va.—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Ben S. Martin

Sports Publicist: Dick Turner

Nickname: Cavaliers

Team Colors: Orange and Blue

Seating Capacity: 30,000

Stadium Name: Scott

School Enrollment: 4,500

Captain of Team: James Abol Hassen Bakhtiar

Lettermen Returning: 14

Lettermen Lost: 11

Ben Martin, looking ahead to his second season at Virginia, has announced that "we will have an improved team on the field in '57, led by our inspirational captain, Jim Bakhtiar."

Bakhtiar approaches his third and final varsity season with good prospects of making it his best. He gained 879 yards last year to rank fifth among the national rushing leaders and otherwise distinguished himself.

The 198-pound fullback will have the same company of Nelson Yarbrough, quarterback, and Sonny Randle and Alvin Cash, halfbacks, who were the usual game starters last season. Yarbrough was the ACC's leading passer in 1956.

The first line, solid with carry-over veterans, is formed by Fred Polzer and Pat Whitaker, ends; Joe White and Harold Outten, tackles; Jim Keyser and Frank Call, guards, and Scott Teunis, center. Keyser, who won All-ACC honors at center last year, will carry on as a line-backer on defense. Another major shift sent Outten to tackle from guard.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

(Oct. 24 at Columbia—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Warren Giese
Sports Publicist: Bob Isbell
Nickname: Gamecocks
Team Colors: Garnet and Black Stadium: Carolina
Seating Capacity: About 42,000
School Enrollment: 5,000
Captains of Team: Nelson Weston and Julius Derrick
Lettermen Returning: 20 Lettermen Lost: 10

Last year, Warren Geise's first season as head coach of South Carolina's Gamecocks, he had a team dominated by sophomores. This year, he says the team has even less experience.

"We've got less experience in six of the 11 starting posts," he says, "But the team speed is about the same. Perhaps there's a shade more speed at tackle."

Last season, Giese indicated that his raw talent had fine spirit, and that such cooperation would go a long way toward making up for the inexperience.

The Gamecocks came through with seven victories and but three defeats. They never won a game by more than two touchdowns and never lost by more than one.

One of the Gamecock's big problems this year is replacing Mackie Prickett who quarterbacked the team for three years. At quarterback, neither up-front nor reserve personnel has the experience that the position carried last year. Only one man, Sam Vickers, saw any action in '56. Gone also are All-ACC end Buddy Frick and tackle Sam DeLucca. However, 19 lettermen are back, among them John Kompara, a mighty tackle.

RICE INSTITUTE

(Nov. 2 at Houston, Texas—9 p.m., EST)

Head Football Coach: Jess Neely
Sports Publicist: Bill Whitmore
Nickname: Owls
Team Colors: Blue and Gray
School Enrollment: 1,700
Stadium: Rice Seating Capacity: 70,000
Captains: Larry Whitmire, Matt Gorges, King Hill
Lettermen Returning: 20 Lettermen Lost : 13

Jess Neely, head coach at Clemson for nine years before moving to Rice in 1940, will field an improved team of bright promise in '57.

Last season the Owls were green and light. They moved the ball very well, with an impressive 325-yard-per-game average, but lack of experience provided a defensive problem and the Owls wound up with a so-so 4-6 record. This year the Owls will have a bit more proven depth in comparison to '56—particularly in the line—and with expected more poise and size, there is reason for optimism. However, the team will still not be a veteran club with only 10 seniors on the roster.

Rice should have a quite dangerous, above par, passing attack with three stellar quarterbacks to do the pitching in seniors Frank Ryan and King Hill, plus brilliant soph Larry Dueitt.

Neely believes his club will be "definitely improved" with generally good speed, able passing and better defense. Only two regulars have departed and there are good replacements. Much depends on the young reserves to come through to provide good depth.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

(Nov. 9 at Clemson—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Tommy Mont

Sports Publicist: Joe Blair

Nickname: Terrapins

Team Colors: Red and White

Stadium: Byrd

Seating Capacity: 35,000

School Enrollment: Approx. 9,000 undergraduate

Captains: Gene Alderton and Jack Healy

Lettermen Returning: 29

Lettermen Lost: 10

The overall outlook is that the Terps will be better in '57. There is better balance and much more depth, now with so much experience coming back from the '56 team. Up front, the line, led by Gene Alderton, Fred Cole and Paul Tonetti, lends a fast and mobile unit. The offensive line blocking will be much improved and their personnel gives an outlook for fine defensive play. Cole, a 225-pounder, is a tremendous tackle prospect.

Along with the better offensive-defensive prospects up front will be the better backfield situation. John Fritsch, Dickie Lewis and Bob Rusevlyan offer high hopes for fine quarterbacking and with seven halfbacks returning, all with very valuable experience, and a good fullback work from Jimmy Hatter and Phil Perlo, the Terps are expected to engineer much more offensive strength than last season and be a tight secondary. Fred Hamilton, the 180-pound "work horse", again leads the returning backs. He is expected to get a lot of assistance from Howie Dare, Bob Layman, Jack Healy and Ted Kerschner, all top football players.

DUKE UNIVERSITY

(Nov. 16 at Durham, N. C.—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: William D. Murray

Sports Publicist: Glenn E. (Ted) Mann

Nickname: Blue Devils

Team Colors: Navy Blue and White

Stadium: Duke

Seating Capacity: 57,500

School Enrollment: 5,000

Captain of Team: Harold McElhaney

Lettermen Returning: 23

Lettermen Lost: 13

There are some real men on this upcoming Duke University football team—men who believe that the easiest way to the goal line is to take the ball and run over the opposition. Of course, the opposition will have something to say about this but the way it stands now the Blue Devils will be big, strong and powerful—a bit slow maybe—but we repeat "big, strong and powerful."

With such tried and true boys in the middle of the line as Roy Hord, Buzz Guy, Tom Topping, and Wade Byrd and a bevy of fine backs in Harold McElhaney, Phil Dupler, Wray Carlton, Eddie Rushton and George Dutrow, the Blue Devils are not likely to "roll over and play dead" this fall.

The top performers for the All-American pickers (and not necessarily in the order named) should be Carlton, McElhaney, Hord, Topping and Bill Thompson.

If all material now on hand is available this fall, Duke will have the equipment to execute the split-T system to the highest degree. There are backs who can pass and those who can receive.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE

(Nov. 23 at Clemson— 2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Paul J. Amen
Sports Publicist: Marvin A. Francis
Nickname: Demon Deacons
Team Colors: Old Gold and Black
Stadium: Bowman Gray
Seating Capacity: 16,841
School Enrollment: 2,400
Captains: George Johnson and Eddie Moore
Lettermen Returning: 16 Lettermen Lost: 11

Although Wake Forest has 16 returning lettermen from last year's group of 27, plus 12 non-lettermen from the 1956 squad, Coach Paul Amen, in his second season as head coach, has a number of important problems still to solve—particularly in the backfield—before a real estimate of Demon strength can be made.

Missing from the '56 squad which was 2-4-3 will be All-American fullback Bill Barnes, starting right half Dick Daniels, and No. 1 QB, Charlie Carpenter. Left half Jim Dalrymple is the lone returning backfield starter, and he has been switched to quarterback.

Despite a satisfactory spring practice Amen and his staff have their work cut out for them this fall.

In the overall picture, the line from tackle-to-tackle appears capable, but the big work will be in the backfield and on the flanks. Nine of the returning lettermen are tackles, guards and centers, while three are ends, and the remaining four backs. Carpenter will miss the entire season because of a ruptured spinal disc.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY

(Nov. 30 at Greenville—2 p.m.)

Head Football Coach: Homer B. Hobbs
Sports Publicist: Dan Foster
Nickname: Purple Hurricane
Team Colors: Purple and White
Stadium: Sirrine
Seating Capacity: 18,000
School Enrollment: 1,300
Captain of Team: Jerry Penland
Lettermen Returning: 23 Lettermen Lost: 4

The 1957 Furman football team should be better than in the two previous seasons because it will be more experienced than either the '55 or '56 squad.

Coach Homer Hobbs is scheduled to have 38 men back to compose his varsity squad. The estimates of the team at this time are based solely on returnees. It is possible that some freshmen entering this fall will strengthen the team, but that possibility is not taken into account in the current appraisal.

Furman should have a very good ground game, chiefly on the strength of team captain and halfback Jerry Penland's running. Penland, one of the top rushers in the Southern Conference last season, has played three highly creditable years for Furman.

Jim Grant, an experienced senior at halfback and Bill Baker, a sophomore QB, gave fine performances in the spring. The other halfback position is wide open.

Back of these three outstanding performers are 19 other lettermen. Of the overall total of 38 returnees, 22 are linemen and 16 are backs.

No Dust In Their Faces

(We are attempting to bring our records up-to-date on team and individual totals. So far, we have checked back through the 1930 season and feel certain that these records are accurate. There are some few listed before this date. Each year we will attempt to go back a few more years until the files are complete. Any additions or corrections to the below-listed figures will be appreciated).

About The College . . .

ESTABLISHMENT

The Senate and House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina drew up an Act of Acceptance of the will of Thomas Green Clemson authorizing the establishment of Clemson as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of this state Nov. 27, 1889. Clemson was a distinguished scientist of his day and served as the nation's first superintendent (now secretary) of Agriculture. He married the daughter of John C. Calhoun, the noted Southern statesman.

LOCATION AND SIZE

The college is located on the former plantation of Calhoun and Clemson in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, 30 miles from the foothills of the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains on Highways 123, 76 and 28. The college has grown from an institution of 446 students when it opened its doors in 1893 to the present day enrollment of 3,500. The campus proper contains nearly 30,000 acres.

THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Robert Franklin Poole became president of Clemson in 1940 succeeding the late Dr. Enoch Sikes. Dr. Poole was born in Laurens County, S. C., Dec. 2, 1893, and completed his undergraduate work at Clemson in 1916, before receiving his Ph.D. from Rutgers in 1921. The Clemson president spent 17 months in France and Germany with the aerial photography service during World War I before becoming assistant plant pathologist at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station in 1920. He served in that capacity until 1926 when he came to N. C. State where he remained until he accepted the Clemson presidency. He is a past president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

PHYSICAL PLANT

Clemson's physical property has grown in leaps and bounds since World War II. During the past few years numerous new buildings have been added and others are in the master plan of the college. Constructed in the past six years have been buildings housing agricultural engineering, chemistry, ceramics, boiler plant, apartment hotel and faculty homes, laundry, a $5 million dormitory and a $3.7 million agricultural center.

EDUCATIONAL DIVISIONS

The college's main divisions include the Schools of Agriculture, Engineering, Arts and Sciences and Textiles. Graduate work can be obtained in most of the schools. Twenty-nine curriculums are offered in the four schools.

The 1957 edition of TIPS ON THE TIGERS has been prepared to assist you in covering Clemson's 1957 schedule. Its purpose is to present basic information on the Tigers that will be of help all during the football season. We welcome the opportunity to fill every reasonable request made to this office for stories, pictures, mats, radio tapes, TV shorts, etc.

Requests for working press tickets and press complimentaries will be honored from sports editors and sports directors only. These requests will be made to this office. No women, other than accredited women sports writers and Western Union operators, or children will be permitted in the pressbox at any time. The pressbox is operated in accordance with recommendations of the Football Writers Assn., of America and the Atlantic Coast Sports-writers Assn.

We furnish programs, three-deep, lineups, halftime and final statistics and a quarter-by-quarter play-by-play account, plus sandwiches and drinks.

For additional information or requests for tickets, write:
